Tyrone McKinley Freeman, Director, Undergraduate Programs, Indiana University Lilly Family School of Philanthropy, Indiana University-Purdue University at Indianapolis

	Excellent	Good	Average	Below Average
Thesis Statement	Names topic & outlines 3-4 main points in support of topic	Names topic & outlines 1-2 main points in support of topic	Outlines some or all main points but does not name topic	Does not name topic or outline main points
Examples of philanthropy, nonprofit organizations, voluntary action	Provides specific & relevant examples of philanthropy, nonprofit organizations, voluntary action for each main point	Provides 1-2 specific & relevant examples of philanthropy, nonprofit organizations, and voluntary action for main points.	At least one example is specific and relevant	Examples are not specific or relevant
Examples of student's role as donor, volunteer, user, employee, or recipient	Provides specific examples and discussion of student roles for each main point	Provides specific examples and discussion of student roles for 1-2 main points	Provides at least one specific example of student role	No student roles are given
Discussion of values reflected in interactions with activities	Identifies & discusses the organizational or personal values reflected in each example or role	Identifies organizational or personal values reflected in at least 2 examples or roles	Discusses organizational or personal values in general apart from examples and roles	Does not identify or discuss organizational or personal values
Grammar and spelling	No errors in grammar & spelling	1-2 errors	3-4 errors	More than 4 errors